

of a flea

October 29, 2005

Amarantine

Ethereal pop songstress, Enya must be alarmed at the repeated castle-invasions she has suffered. There may be something to her unwordly, dare I say eldritch and tenebrous warblings, that attracts first-class nutters.

An Italian who walked Dublin's streets with a framed photo of her around his neck, sent her numerous love letters while following her around for nearly a year, XFM reported. He later stabbed himself after her parents kicked him out of their bar.

Let us hope she has better luck with Amarantine, her new album said to include three songs "written in a language Enya made up" (or rather by her lyricist, Roma Ryan... possibly called "Loxian"). And possibly a nameless piping sound from beyond space. Or possibly just ice skating.

Posted by Ghost of a flea at 09:44 AM | Comments \(0\) | TrackBack \(0\)

Midori Hamada: Catch 22

Now is the time at the Flea when we dance.

Posted by Ghost of a flea at 09:41 AM | Comments \(0\) | TrackBack \(0\)

THE FLEA IS...

...home of the fighting Quaker!

Ads by Goooooogle

Star Wars: Battlefront II

Fight as a Jedi! Order the game now & get a free Battlefront II t-shirt www.swbattlefront2.com

Magnum P.I. on DVD

The complete 8 year collection of the hit show on DVD
www.web-worldwide.net

Ian Fleming

Find pics, news, movies, interviews filmography and more at Moviefone

Magnum PI on DVD On Sale

Get Magnum PI on DVD plus get free shipping at Amazon
www.amazon.com